

Create a html document called colors.html that has the following requirements:

1. The text "Colored Numbers" will appear in the browser title bar.
2. Has four JavaScript `document.write()` and one JavaScript `document.writeln()` methods to display the following in a browser client area.

1 2 3 4

3. Create a pop-up window using `window.alert` to display the text "Welcome to my first program" after the colored numbers are displayed.
4. Have your name display in the browser client area by writing your name within the body element of the HTML document.
5. Submit your document for grading by uploading it with the link below before the due time.